FACTS

9. On or about January 19, 2013, at approximately 3:45 A.M., plaintiffs were in a vehicle parked in the vicinity of 548 Vanderbilt Avenue, in Staten Island, when they were unjustifiably arrested and assaulted by the defendant police officers.

10. Moments prior to this incident, New York City officers were apparently in the process of arresting another individual not associated with plaintiffs.

11. The defendant police officers had taken a female and pushed her against the trunk of plaintiff Benoit's vehicle as he sat in it with the motor running. The car was in park.

12. Startled, Benoit's foot hit the gas. The car did not move. In response, the defendant officer angrily ran over to the driver's side of the vehicle, pulled out his weapon and said, "Don't fucking move."

13. A second defendant officer then pulled plaintiff Benoit out of his vehicle and threw him to the ground. Immediately, a number of officers proceeded to jump on plaintiff Benoit's back, and one officer kicked him in the face.

14. Plaintiff Adetimirin started to video this assault with his cell phone, but was grabbed by a defendant officer and tackled to the ground.

21. Defendants knew or should have known that prior to this date, the perpetration of unlawful acts, and the use of excessive force and the infliction of injury to persons in the custody of the individual defendants was occurring, in that there may have been reports of such unlawful conduct by this specific officer, but failed to take appropriate steps to eliminate such unlawful acts.
